LHUG End-of-Year Review Instructions

All LHUG members are required to attend one end-of-year review meeting. Meeting options include in-person, Zoom, or one-on-one phone call sessions.

If you are unable to attend any of the scheduled review meetings, or if you have any questions, please call, text, or WhatsApp Leah Lazar at (443) 538-0572.

Review Form Directions

For the child listed in this form:

- For each subject, please list or describe the primary curriculum used, the basic method of instruction, and the goals and progress achieved.
- It is optional—but encouraged—to include general plans or ideas for next year if your child will continue homeschooling.
- Subject details do not need to be written if they are discussed verbally during the review. However, all subjects required by law must be recorded and discussed with the LHUG representative at least once per year for each child.

As noted in the LHUG Application Form, parents are fully responsible for the development and execution of their child's educational program.

LHUG is responsible for verifying this educational program for legal purposes and for confirming the child's participation in LHUG oversight with the state.

Quick Guide: Maryland Required Subjects for Homeschool Reviews

Maryland law requires the following areas to be taught in a homeschool program:

- English/Language Arts (reading, writing, spelling, grammar, composition)
- Mathematics
- Science
- Social Studies (history, geography, civics)
- Art
- Music
- Health
- Physical Education

Other elective subjects (such as foreign languages or religious studies like Hebrew/Torah) may be added, but are not legally required.

Parents should be prepared to show instruction and progress in each required area through work samples, discussions, or records.
